DESCRIPTION

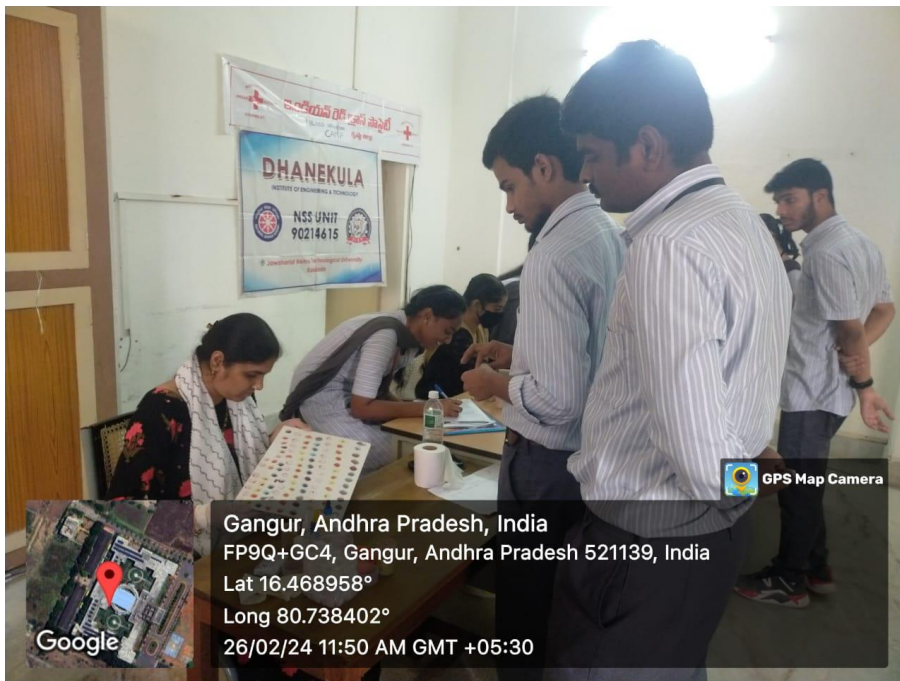

On February 26, 2024, Dhanekula Institute of Engineering and Technology, in collaboration with the Red Cross Society, conducted a significant Blood Group Identification Session for 1st and 2nd-year B. Tech students. The session, graced by presence of Mr. B. Sankarnadh, Red Cross Secretary of Krishna District, served as an enlightening experience for the students. The event aimed to educate participants about the critical importance of knowing their blood groups and instill an understanding of the pivotal role they can play in voluntary blood donation for the benefit of those in need. Mr. Sankarnadh, the chief guest, emphasized the life-saving impact of blood donation and inspiring the students to actively engage in humanitarian efforts. The collaboration with the Red Cross Society added a professional touch to the session, making it a comprehensive and impactful initiative that left a lasting impression on the participating students. A total of 361 students utilized this opportunity and majority of them showed willingness towards blood donation in future.
